

SPORTS SEGMENT PERSONAS

EXPERIMENTING

"Any skin is a win"

Amateurs dip their toes in to feel like winners. They enjoy the possibility that each small wager brings. To them, betting isn't about cashing in big but rather capturing the thrill and boosting the excitement of every play.

These players are Entertainment enthusiasts, but sports betting is just one of the choices on their menu of entertainment options. They enjoy spontaneous experiences like watching movies over structured routines.

It's about the fun of feeling like a winner without the pressure of laying it all out on the line.

EXPERIENCED

"Playing the game behind the game"

Advanced Players see sports betting as a chance to make every bet, a smart play. They're here for the validation that they're a cut above.

They stay engaged with bets where they go, like placing a well researched wager on a rainy Thursday Night Football game. Here, possibilities lie in unlocking wins based on their strategy and attention to the game.

They want offers that keep their experience exciting and others to recognize their knowledge of the game. They see the effort they put in as a way to achieve financial gain.

ELITE

"All in on adrenaline"

Aficionados are in it for the long haul. They've honed their approach and want to be treated like the high rollers they see themselves as.

For them, betting is more about the excitement of putting it all on the line than whether they win or lose. It's a personal experience driven by passion and the respect they've earned as seasoned players of the game. They're not frowning after a bad beat because they've lived it before.

They've got their own way of doing things and just want rewards that show they're devoted, without overthinking the game they love.
